Session Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session, the student should be able to:

- Students will be able to explain the domain of Right Understanding by comprehending the human being as the knower, experiencer, and doer
- reflect on how the understanding shapes human conduct and decision-making.
- Students develop clarity about the domain of Right Understanding, recognizing the human being as the knower, experiencer, and doer

How to Engage with this Session (The Process)

- Whatever is said is a proposal — do not assume it to be true or false.
- Verify it on your own right, on the basis of your natural acceptance.
- It is a dialogue: first between you and the teacher, then within your own self — between what you are and what you really want to be.

Part A — Key Ideas (Recap)

- How does right understanding of the human being benefit society?: It promotes responsible behavior, leading to trust and mutual respect in relationships.
- What does the domain of right understanding cover apart from the human being?: It also covers relationships in the family, society, and the harmony in nature/existence.

Part B — In-Class Activity

Activity 1: Self-Exploration and Natural Acceptance for Session 3

Analyze the core proposal on the basis of natural acceptance and self-verification.

Core Proposal Aspect	Naturally Acceptable? (Yes/No)	Current Practice (Living with it?)
Students will be able to explain the domain o...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	In Progress / Conscious Effort
reflect on how the understanding shapes human...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	Self-Observing Regularly

Personal Observation: When verifying Students will be able to explain the domain of Right Underst through my natural acceptance, it leads to internal harmony, clarity of purpose, and unconditional fulfillment.

Living in alignment with this understanding eliminates internal contradictions and fosters mutual happiness in all dimensions of life.

Activity 2: Participation in the Order of Society and Nature

Identify concrete steps to translate understanding into conduct and relationship.

Dimension of Living	Commitment & Action Plan
Thought & Imagination	Ensure desires are guided by natural acceptance rather than pre-conditioning.
Behavior & Relationship	Express feelings of trust, respect, and affection unconditionally in daily interactions.
Work & Production	Engage in mutually enriching work with nature, ensuring conservation and sustainability.

Part C — Long-Answer Questions

Q1. Explain the difference between reaction and response in human interaction.

In human interaction, reaction means deciding our feeling and behaviour based on the other person's behaviour. If the other behaves properly, we may behave properly; if the other misbehaves, we may also misbehave. In this case, our "remote control" is with the other person and our conduct becomes indefinite. Response means deciding our feeling on our own right, based on natural acceptance and right understanding. In response, the behaviour of the other is only an indicator of the other person's state. With that input, we decide our behaviour to ensure mutual happiness. Response is self-organised, definite and unconditional, while reaction is dependent, indefinite and often leads to unhappiness.

Q2. How does right understanding of the human being benefit society?

It promotes responsible behavior, leading to trust and mutual respect in relationships.

Q3. What does the domain of right understanding cover apart from the human being?

It also covers relationships in the family, society, and the harmony in nature/existence.
