Session Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session, the student should be able to:

- To enable students to understand the human being comprehensively as the first step
- To enable students to understand the core theme of the course, thereby laying the foundation for self-exploration and holistic living.
- Students will be able to analyze and understand the human being in a comprehensive manner, recognizing the self as the core entity

How to Engage with this Session (The Process)

- Whatever is said is a proposal — do not assume it to be true or false.
- Verify it on your own right, on the basis of your natural acceptance.
- It is a dialogue: first between you and the teacher, then within your own self — between what you are and what you really want to be.

Part A — Key Ideas (Recap)

- What are the three key roles of the human being?: A human being functions as the knower (who understands), experiencer (who feels emotions and aspirations), and doer (who performs actions based on understanding and feelings).
- Why is understanding the human being considered the first step in this course?: Because a human being is the central participant in existence, and right understanding of the self forms the foundation for harmony in family, society, and nature.

Part B — In-Class Activity

Activity 1: Self-Exploration and Natural Acceptance for Session 1

Analyze the core proposal on the basis of natural acceptance and self-verification.

Core Proposal Aspect	Naturally Acceptable? (Yes/No)	Current Practice (Living with it?)
To enable students to understand the human be...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	In Progress / Conscious Effort
To enable students to understand the core the...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	Self-Observing Regularly

Personal Observation: When verifying To enable students to understand the human being comprehensi through my natural acceptance, it leads to internal harmony, clarity of purpose, and unconditional fulfillment.

Living in alignment with this understanding eliminates internal contradictions and fosters mutual happiness in all dimensions of life.

Activity 2: Participation in the Order of Society and Nature

Identify concrete steps to translate understanding into conduct and relationship.

Dimension of Living	Commitment & Action Plan
Thought & Imagination	Ensure desires are guided by natural acceptance rather than pre-conditioning.
Behavior & Relationship	Express feelings of trust, respect, and affection unconditionally in daily interactions.
Work & Production	Engage in mutually enriching work with nature, ensuring conservation and sustainability.

Part C — Long-Answer Questions

Q1. Explain why family is considered the basic unit of human interaction.

Family is the basic unit of human organisation because it is the first place where a human being learns to live in relationship. The main issue in family is not only physical facility, but the fulfilment of relationship. To live in relationship, we must understand relationship correctly. Relationship exists between one Self and another Self; the body is only used as an instrument to express feelings. Feelings such as trust, respect, affection, care, guidance, reverence, glory, gratitude and love are definite in relationship. When these feelings are understood, recognised and fulfilled, the result is mutual happiness. If relationship is not understood, even people living together may remain in opposition, irritation or conflict. Therefore, harmony in the family begins with understanding the Self, understanding feelings in relationship, and living with the intention of fulfilling relationship.

Q2. What are the three key roles of the human being?

A human being functions as the knower (who understands), experiencer (who feels emotions and aspirations), and doer (who performs actions based on understanding and feelings).

Q3. Why is understanding the human being considered the first step in this course?

Because a human being is the central participant in existence, and right understanding of the self forms the foundation for harmony in family, society, and nature.
