Session Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session, the student should be able to:

- To enable students to understand the human being comprehensively as the first step
- To enable students to understand the core theme of the course, thereby laying the foundation for self-exploration and holistic living.
- Students will be able to analyze and understand the human being in a comprehensive manner, recognizing the self as the core entity

How to Engage with this Session (The Process)

- Whatever is said is a proposal — do not assume it to be true or false.
- Verify it on your own right, on the basis of your natural acceptance.
- It is a dialogue: first between you and the teacher, then within your own self — between what you are and what you really want to be.

Part A — Key Ideas (Recap)

- What is the core theme of this course on Human Values?: The core theme is to explore and develop the right understanding of the human being, which helps in achieving harmony at all levels of existence.
- How does comprehensive self-understanding influence decision-making?: It enables clarity of purpose, responsible choices, and ethical actions, thereby reducing conflicts and contradictions in life.

Part B — In-Class Activity

Activity 1: Self-Exploration and Natural Acceptance for Session 2

Analyze the core proposal on the basis of natural acceptance and self-verification.

Core Proposal Aspect	Naturally Acceptable? (Yes/No)	Current Practice (Living with it?)
To enable students to understand the human be...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	In Progress / Conscious Effort
To enable students to understand the core the...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	Self-Observing Regularly

Personal Observation: When verifying To enable students to understand the human being comprehensi through my natural acceptance, it leads to internal harmony, clarity of purpose, and unconditional fulfillment.

Living in alignment with this understanding eliminates internal contradictions and fosters mutual happiness in all dimensions of life.

Activity 2: Participation in the Order of Society and Nature

Identify concrete steps to translate understanding into conduct and relationship.

Dimension of Living	Commitment & Action Plan
Thought & Imagination	Ensure desires are guided by natural acceptance rather than pre-conditioning.
Behavior & Relationship	Express feelings of trust, respect, and affection unconditionally in daily interactions.
Work & Production	Engage in mutually enriching work with nature, ensuring conservation and sustainability.

Part C — Long-Answer Questions

Q1. Explain trust as the foundational value in relationship.

Trust means the assurance that the other person wants to make me happy and prosperous. In relationship, trust is foundational because without trust, other feelings like respect, affection, care and guidance cannot be properly established. In UHV, trust is explored by distinguishing between intention and competence. At the level of natural acceptance, every human being wants to make oneself happy and also wants to make the other happy. The problem usually lies in competence, not in intention. However, when the other makes a mistake, we often doubt the other's intention and create opposition, irritation or anger. But when we make a mistake, we usually see it as lack of competence. Right understanding helps us see that the intention of the other is also naturally acceptable, while competence may need improvement. This assurance about intention is trust, and it leads to mutual happiness in relationship.
