Session Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session, the student should be able to:

- Students will be able to identify and understand the various activities of the Self such as desire, thought, and selection
- explore the potentialities for right understanding, wisdom, and harmonious living.
- Students are expected to recognize and differentiate the activities of the Self (desire, thought, selection)

How to Engage with this Session (The Process)

- Whatever is said is a proposal — do not assume it to be true or false.
- Verify it on your own right, on the basis of your natural acceptance.
- It is a dialogue: first between you and the teacher, then within your own self — between what you are and what you really want to be.

Part A — Key Ideas (Recap)

- How does the self differ from the body in terms of activities?: The body performs physiological activities (like eating, walking, sleeping), while the self performs conscious activities (like imagining, evaluating, and making choices).
- What are the main activities of the self?: The main activities of the self are desiring, thinking, and selecting (also called aspirations, analysis, and decisions).

Part B — In-Class Activity

Activity 1: Self-Exploration and Natural Acceptance for Session 6

Analyze the core proposal on the basis of natural acceptance and self-verification.

Core Proposal Aspect	Naturally Acceptable? (Yes/No)	Current Practice (Living with it?)
Students will be able to identify and underst...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	In Progress / Conscious Effort
explore the potentialities for right understa...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	Self-Observing Regularly

Personal Observation: When verifying Students will be able to identify and understand the various through my natural acceptance, it leads to internal harmony, clarity of purpose, and unconditional fulfillment.

Living in alignment with this understanding eliminates internal contradictions and fosters mutual happiness in all dimensions of life.

Activity 2: Participation in the Order of Society and Nature

Identify concrete steps to translate understanding into conduct and relationship.

Dimension of Living	Commitment & Action Plan
Thought & Imagination	Ensure desires are guided by natural acceptance rather than pre-conditioning.
Behavior & Relationship	Express feelings of trust, respect, and affection unconditionally in daily interactions.
Work & Production	Engage in mutually enriching work with nature, ensuring conservation and sustainability.

Part C — Long-Answer Questions

Q1. Explain the vision for Universal Human Order.

Universal Human Order is the order in which human beings live with right understanding, right feeling, prosperity, fearlessness and co-existence with nature. It begins from the family and gradually expands to family cluster, village, village cluster, nation and world family. In this order, the goal is not domination, competition or accumulation, but mutual fulfilment. Every individual develops right understanding, every family feels prosperous, society becomes fearless through trust, and human beings participate in nature without violating harmony. Universal Human Order does not mean that everyone must have exactly equal physical facilities; rather, it means every family is able to identify its needs correctly and has the feeling of prosperity. This vision gives direction for a humane society where the whole human family can live with mutual happiness and mutual prosperity.

Q2. How does the self differ from the body in terms of activities?

The body performs physiological activities (like eating, walking, sleeping), while the self performs conscious activities (like imagining, evaluating, and making choices).

Q3. What are the main activities of the self?

The main activities of the self are desiring, thinking, and selecting (also called aspirations, analysis, and decisions).
