Session Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session, the student should be able to:

- Students will be able to identify the causes of harmony or contradiction within the Self by analyzing desires, thoughts, and expectations
- learn how right understanding and alignment among these lead to inner harmony.
- Students are expected to reflect on their own desires, thoughts, and expectations to identify instances of harmony and contradiction within themselves.

How to Engage with this Session (The Process)

- Whatever is said is a proposal — do not assume it to be true or false.
- Verify it on your own right, on the basis of your natural acceptance.
- It is a dialogue: first between you and the teacher, then within your own self — between what you are and what you really want to be.

Part A — Key Ideas (Recap)

- What is meant by harmony in the self?: Harmony in the self occurs when our desires, thoughts, and selections are based on right understanding, leading to inner peace and satisfaction.
- What causes contradiction in the self?: Contradiction arises when there is a mismatch between our desires, thoughts, and selections—often due to lack of clarity or wrong understanding—resulting in stress, confusion, or conflict.

Part B — In-Class Activity

Activity 1: Self-Exploration and Natural Acceptance for Session 8

Analyze the core proposal on the basis of natural acceptance and self-verification.

Core Proposal Aspect	Naturally Acceptable? (Yes/No)	Current Practice (Living with it?)
Students will be able to identify the causes ...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	In Progress / Conscious Effort
learn how right understanding and alignment a...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	Self-Observing Regularly

Personal Observation: When verifying Students will be able to identify the causes of harmony or c through my natural acceptance, it leads to internal harmony, clarity of purpose, and unconditional fulfillment.

Living in alignment with this understanding eliminates internal contradictions and fosters mutual happiness in all dimensions of life.

Activity 2: Participation in the Order of Society and Nature

Identify concrete steps to translate understanding into conduct and relationship.

Dimension of Living	Commitment & Action Plan
Thought & Imagination	Ensure desires are guided by natural acceptance rather than pre-conditioning.
Behavior & Relationship	Express feelings of trust, respect, and affection unconditionally in daily interactions.
Work & Production	Engage in mutually enriching work with nature, ensuring conservation and sustainability.

Part C — Long-Answer Questions

Q1. Explain the human role in mutual enrichment or harmony in nature.

The human role in nature is to live in a way that preserves, protects and enriches the rest of nature while ensuring prosperity for human beings. Human beings need physical facilities from nature, but these must be used with right understanding and right utilisation. Problems like water insecurity, food insecurity, climate change, pollution and resource depletion show that human beings have often acted with greed, accumulation and exploitation. The solution is not merely more technology, but a holistic approach based on right understanding. Human beings can participate in harmony by reducing waste, protecting water sources, preserving forests, supporting sustainable agriculture, using renewable resources, planting trees, restoring wetlands and living with responsibility. Thus, mutual enrichment means that human prosperity should not be at the cost of nature; it should be in continuity with the preservation of nature.

Q2. What is meant by harmony in the self?

Harmony in the self occurs when our desires, thoughts, and selections are based on right understanding, leading to inner peace and satisfaction.

Q3. What causes contradiction in the self?

Contradiction arises when there is a mismatch between our desires, thoughts, and selections—often due to lack of clarity or wrong understanding—resulting in stress, confusion, or conflict.
