Session Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session, the student should be able to:

- On completion of this topic, students will be able to recognize the activities of the Self — realization, understanding, and contemplation
- appreciate their role in attaining comprehensive knowledge about existence through realization of co-existence, understanding harmony in nature, and contemplating human participation in the universal order.
- Students will be able to demonstrate clarity in the activities of the Self — realization, understanding, and contemplation — by connecting them with the realization of co-existence, understanding of harmony in nature

How to Engage with this Session (The Process)

- Whatever is said is a proposal — do not assume it to be true or false.
- Verify it on your own right, on the basis of your natural acceptance.
- It is a dialogue: first between you and the teacher, then within your own self — between what you are and what you really want to be.

Part A — Key Ideas (Recap)

- What does contemplation in the self involve?: Contemplation means reflecting on the human role in ensuring harmony and consciously participating in the universal order.
- What is meant by understanding in the self?: Understanding is recognizing the harmony that already exists in nature and how all units of existence function in an interconnected and balanced way.

Part B — In-Class Activity

Activity 1: Self-Exploration and Natural Acceptance for Session 8

Analyze the core proposal on the basis of natural acceptance and self-verification.

Core Proposal Aspect	Naturally Acceptable? (Yes/No)	Current Practice (Living with it?)
On completion of this topic, students will be...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	In Progress / Conscious Effort
appreciate their role in attaining comprehens...	Yes (Naturally Acceptable)	Self-Observing Regularly

Personal Observation: When verifying On completion of this topic, students will be able to recogn through my natural acceptance, it leads to internal harmony, clarity of purpose, and unconditional fulfillment.

Living in alignment with this understanding eliminates internal contradictions and fosters mutual happiness in all dimensions of life.

Activity 2: Participation in the Order of Society and Nature

Identify concrete steps to translate understanding into conduct and relationship.

Dimension of Living	Commitment & Action Plan
Thought & Imagination	Ensure desires are guided by natural acceptance rather than pre-conditioning.
Behavior & Relationship	Express feelings of trust, respect, and affection unconditionally in daily interactions.
Work & Production	Engage in mutually enriching work with nature, ensuring conservation and sustainability.

Part C — Long-Answer Questions

Q1. Explain the importance of right utilisation of resources with reference to water, food and population issues.

Right utilisation means using physical facilities and natural resources according to real need, not according to greed or blind consumption. Water insecurity shows that even when natural water availability exists, mismanagement, deforestation, pollution, over-extraction and wrong storage systems create scarcity. Food insecurity shows that the problem is not always lack of production, but wrong distribution, wastage and wrong priorities. Population also becomes a problem when it is not guided by right understanding and responsibility. These issues show that physical resources must be understood in relation to human needs, harmony in nature and future generations. Therefore, right utilisation includes conservation, reduction of waste, sustainable agriculture, water harvesting, responsible consumption and systems that support mutual prosperity without damaging nature.

Q2. What does contemplation in the self involve?

Contemplation means reflecting on the human role in ensuring harmony and consciously participating in the universal order.

Q3. What is meant by understanding in the self?

Understanding is recognizing the harmony that already exists in nature and how all units of existence function in an interconnected and balanced way.
